Jubilee JOURNAL

July/August 2019

The Eden Philosophy has seven primary elements of well-being: identity, growth, autonomy, security, connectedness, meaning, and joy. This month we will look at the element of "identity" to measure well-being among all members of the care partner team.

IDENTITY – being known; individuality; having a history

Nothing exists without identity. Healthcare, as it exists today, strips away individuals' identities, leaving them unknown and vulnerable. The medical model identifies people by their disease process, what they need assistance with, or how their food is prepared and served. If you need increased assistance with daily life, you find yourself grouped with others in a similar situation. Your identity is now tied to others. Part of knowing each other deeply involves acknowledging our strengths and what we each have to offer. How we bring forth these strengths each day is a powerful way to celebrate each other's unique individuality. The identity of residents in long term care becomes murky because they no longer have a special bond with a place or home that held a significant, personal meaning. They experience a sense of up rootedness and non-belonging, as well as confused feelings about self and identity. What is significant in this feeling of up rootedness is its finale. How can one identify with a place that is no longer there?

EDEN ~ From The Garden

When possessions are dispersed among relatives or sold, they are no longer available to the individual for interaction and meaning; the relationship with objects and their memories is lost. Identity is socially constructed. One's identity, history, life, and sense of self are essential components of well-being. Without this, individuals "cease to exist."

We use care plans as a way to establish one's identity in terms of what assistance they need and the deficits they live with. The care plan becomes very individualized, focusing on strengths, preferences, goals, and growth. When we have a full picture of an individual's identity, we know how to partner to highlight and strengthen the resident's sense of individuality. This is true for everyone involved in the care relationship: the Elders and other individuals accepting support, staff, and family members.

What welcoming processes do you perform that help bring out the identity of the Elder accepting support or the staff member or the family member? How do conversations among the care partner team members reflect a "knowing" of the individual's identity? How do our care partners help people continue to become well-known to one another?

The need for meaning and growth doesn't diminish with age.

What does this domain look like in the day-to-day service of Elders?

We strive to learn the Elder's story, who they are, what is important to them. We honor what is important to each Elder and support their choices. We show Elders that we value their story and their important roles in their lives. We share who we are as a person with the Elders and with our team. We always put our relationship with the Elder above the completion of a task. We do not complete a task at the expense of our relationship with the Elder. We commit to the intentional use of language that enhances the well-being of each Elder. We avoid using label and language that depersonalize who each Elder is or stigmatizes them. We recognize that you cannot truly get to know someone from information 'on a form' and that this can only be achieved through the development of mutual and meaningful relationships.

Eden fosters relationships and continues to help people grow. It is an environment where elders want to live, families want to visit, and staff want to work. In following the ten principles of Eden a world full of opportunity is created — opportunities for elders to be respected and honoured for their wisdom, opportunities to give back to their community and opportunities to be engaged in activities they find meaningful every day. "it has the potential of remaking the experience of aging and disability...it is a powerful tool for improving quality of life." Creating an elder-centered community is a never-ending process. Human growth must never be separated from human life.

Rules for Being Human

You will receive a body. You may like it or hate it, but it will be yours for the entire period this time around. You will learn lessons. You are enrolled in a fulltime informal school called life. Each day in this school you will have the opportunity to learn lessons. You may like the lessons or think them irrelevant. There are no mistakes, only lessons. Growth is a process of trial and error experimentation. A lesson is repeated until learned. Learning lessons does not end. There is no part of life that does not contain its lessons. If you are alive, there are lessons to be learned. "There" is no better than "here". When your "there" has become a "here" you will simply obtain another "there" that will again look better than "here". Others are merely mirrors of you. You cannot love or hate something about another person unless its reflects to you something you love or hate about yourself. What you make of your life is up to you. You have all the tools and resources you need. What you do with them is up to you. The choice is yours. Your answers lie inside you. The answer to life's questions lie inside you. All you need to do is look, listen and trust. This will often be forgotten, only to be remembered again.

Good-bye's & Hello's

With heartfelt sorrow we say goodbye to Residents who have left this world. We say farewell to: Bernard A. Bell; Bernice Best; Mary Focht; Errol Needham; Irene Elizabeth Ploughmann.

Welcome to our new Residents who have decided to make Porteous Lodge their home. Our commitment is to ensure that every individual is treated with dignity, respect and kindness. Please feel free to express any concerns or questions you may have to our staff.

We welcome: Joanne G. Beauchamp; Frances Crowe; Rita Ehr; Kevin Neil Friesen; Olga Leschyshyn; Lucille Evelyn McDonald; Frieda Meissner; Phyllis Shields; Keith Douglas Wiens.

News from Recreation: Well it's hard to believe that it's already almost July! We have been working hard to get our courtyard and areas around the building looking good for summer. Thanks to everyone who helped with this! Just a friendly reminder that the courtyard is a non-smoking area for visitors.

On May 22 we took a scenic country drive to Pike Lake. Residents on this trip were Fay A.; Trevor C.; Gwladys T.; Marlene F.; Leslie K.; Russell W.; Freda G.; Rose A.; and Tony S. On May 23 a small group went and tried their lunch at the Dakota Dunes Casino. Residents on this outing were Gerald K.; Phil H.; Laurie B.; and Pat H. We were scheduled to attend the Riders Green & White game on May 25th but unfortunately the cold rainy weather kept us indoors. On May 29 we went on our 4th annual Porteous Lodge Fish Derby at the Forestry Farm Fish Pond. No fish were caught but Phil H.; Tony S.; Gus S.; Sam C.; and Ed C. still had a great time trying to catch the big one! Thanks to Kelly, Jasleen, Jason and Shangyu for helping with this great trip. Thanks to Carm for sending the great lunch along with us! On June 6 to help us celebrate National Indigenous Peoples Day, we had students from Confederation Park School here to perform songs and dances for us. Thanks so much; we really appreciate you coming to Porteous Lodge.

Dear Nurse,

With summer in full swing, just wondering if we are allowed to take our loved ones outside?
Susie Sunshine

Dear Susie,

Of course you can take a resident outside! In fact we encourage our staff to take an extra 15 minutes to spend with the residents outside. Recreation also tries to have as many activities outside as they can. This includes walking to Market Mall once a week with residents, country drives, fishing at the Forestry Farm, picnics at Pike Lake and just having coffee in the courtyard.

At Stensrud we have a courtyard that has a gazebo in the back where families can all sit and have a picnic lunch together. There are 2 big tables, chairs and plenty of room for young visitors to run around.

In the courtyard we also have resident garden boxes where residents plant and look after their own flowers or vegetables. There are plenty of chairs for visitors to sit and visit.

Pierre Du Plessis was hired for summer as a groundskeeper at Stensrud Lodge. Welcome back! We are happy to have Pierre with us!

Focus on “Friendships” over the summer!

When asked to describe or define the essence of The Eden Alternative, the answer is “it’s about relationships.” As automatic and obvious as that answer is, sometimes we forget to practice it. Unfortunately, like most people, anyone can get caught up in the busy-ness of their daily work, and life can get pretty hectic. So, something has to give, and much of the time, it’s in close relationships where you will feel the strain. Anyone can get short with their answers and their temper, and find themselves focusing on their “to-do” list to the exclusion of more important things. With focus on “DOING,” you get to the end of another day, only to realize, there were opportunities missed... opportunities to grow relationships with your family, your co-workers, and new people who you have met. Please be reminded of the magic of deep, knowing relationships.

Be intentional about shifting from “DOING” to “BEING.” Even though you were accomplishing important tasks, please do not ignore what is really important in life... relationships. The Eden Alternative makes life worth living. I wish you the gift of well-being that comes with rich relationships

Employee Safety Concerns

1. When an employee has a safety concern, they must be encouraged, to correct the problem, e.g. to bypass a water spill on the floor only sets a trap for the next person. Regardless of how the water spill occurred, it should be cleaned up immediately.
2. If the concern is beyond the employee's control or capabilities, they then have a responsibility to report it to their immediate supervisor verbally or in writing. The employee is expected to work with their supervisor to resolve the concern.
3. If the concern is not resolved, the employee should then contact a member of the Occupational Health Committee (OHC). The member will have the concern discussed at the next meeting, or discussed with the Occupational Health Committee Co-chairs. The OHC will review the concern and information provided, interview employee and supervisor involved, conduct an investigation of the work area if necessary, and research the resolution. The OHC will forward written recommendations to the person responsible, as required. The expected time frame for response will be identified.

In My Father's Footsteps By Trish Cheveldayoff

When you walk through the front door of Marg and Al Lovas' Saskatoon home, you can't help but notice the box of toys sitting on the living room floor. The toys belong to Marg and Al's grandson Innis. He's 14 months old and its clear Grandma and Grandpa play an important role in his life. Innis is spending more time with Marg and Al since their daughter O'Lynda went back to work as a registered nurse in mid-January.

"I've taken on a bit more than just Grandma," says Marg Lovas. He's had quite a few digestive issues. He's doing well now. He's growing. He's thriving so, that's the most important thing."

When Marg isn't spending time with Innis, she can be found in Warman, working as a substitute teacher at the same school she taught at for many years before retiring in 2005. Marg graduated from the University of Saskatchewan's College of Home Economics. Her major was clothing and textiles with a minor in interior design. As a young girl she always enjoyed sewing and over the years has done a lot of custom sewing for people. She still sews today but her new pastime is machine embroidery.

"I specialize in personalizing baby gifts with some embroidery and I do a lot of knitting which I took up after I retired," says Marg. "My mom knit a lot."

Marg's mother Raema Tennent was also a school teacher. She taught in Saskatoon before she and her husband Bob moved to Melfort in 1949. Bob had just graduated from the University of Saskatchewan's College of Engineering when he was offered a job in Melfort as the town engineer. They soon started a family. Bob Junior arrived first; then Marg followed by George, Helen and twin brothers Cam and Dave. Continued....

Continued .....

The family lived in a two bedroom apartment a top the town's fire hall. They eventually made the move to Saskatoon in 1959. Marg was in Grade 2.

“Dad had a job as a draftsman for the City of Saskatoon,” says Marg. “He crept up the ladder and when he retired after 29 years and 11 months, he was Assistant City Engineer. “

In 1977, while working for the city, Bob Tennent was appointed to sit on the Jubilee Residences Inc. Board.

“He was very good friends with Howard Stensrud and Eric Antonini, all of those guys,” says Marg. “They were good friends. It was a bit of a natural fit.”

Bob proved to be an asset to the board, providing among other things, financial oversight. He served on the JRI Board and later the Jubilee Residences Foundation Board for a total of 30 years. He strongly believed that serving on the board meant more than just attending a few meetings throughout the year. He felt it was important to be visible to the residents of Porteous and Stensrud Lodges. Carving the turkey on Christmas Day at Stensrud Lodge became an annual event.

“We literally didn't do anything Christmassy,” says Marg. “We'd have breakfast, but no gift opening or no dinner or anything until my Dad came back from Stensrud. Every Christmas he went and carved the turkey there. That was something he always did. We would just wait for him to come home; sometimes we weren't so patient.”

Ill health eventually forced Bob to step away from his board duties. In 2007, he was named an honorary board member.

“He was getting on in years,” says Marg. “He'd been through a lot. He smashed his shoulder and then he broke his hip and then things went downhill. His mind was still pretty good at that point.”

Bob's stepping down from the board left a vacancy on the Foundation Board. Heather Anderson was a board member at the time. She approached Marg and asked her if she would consider taking over her father's position on the board.

“I thought I'm not sure I can bring as much to the table as maybe they think because I didn't get a lot of engineering osmosis from my Dad,” laughs Marg.

Despite Marg's insecurities about her abilities, she agreed to sit on the Foundation Board.

“I would go to functions with him all the time and I would drive him but then, once I was on the board and I was going to the meetings, I would come back and sort of fill him in as to what was going on,” says Marg. “I wanted to keep him in the loop and make him feel like he was still part of something.”

In Marg's 11 years on the Foundation Board she has witnessed firsthand the challenges in providing quality care to the older adults in the community. She recognizes there are many needs and few dollars to go around and believes the work of the Foundation is more important than ever. The Foundation's Comforts of Home Campaign which involves refurbishing all the resident rooms at Porteous and Stensrud Lodges was something Marg got behind in a big way.

The plan is to provide each resident room with a fresh coat of paint, new flooring, window treatments, bedside table, and dresser and visitor chair. Marg was tasked with sourcing and pricing the items for the project and creating an interior design colour board. The project allowed for choice; giving the residents four colour palettes to choose from. Marg's interior design background came in handy.

"I haven't used it very much," says Marg. "It gave me a chance to dabble. I've seen a couple of the rooms. The one I saw, it was done in that pale turquoise colour. It looked quite good."

Marg perhaps doesn't have an engineering degree like her father Bob did, but what she feels she does bring to the table is her common sense approach to things. She calls herself a regular person who sometimes will challenge the status quo and ask the question, "Can we do things a little bit differently?" Her reason for joining the board may have simply been to carry on the work her father started more than forty years ago but her reason for remaining on the board today has more to do with making a difference in the lives of the residents who call Porteous Lodge and Stensrud Lodge home.

"For me, the knowledge that hopefully we are making something better for people; that's important to me."

Remember, sometimes a small step in the right direction ends up being the biggest step of your life.

Did you make a difference today?

Jubilee Residences Eden Vision is .....
A caring community that is warm and friendly. Elders, families, team members and everyone associated with Jubilee are honored and treated with respect. It is a place where life is worth living; plants, animals and children thrive; and residents are encouraged to share their wisdom.
